

Aaad People

Recently, gas exploration has been going on in the desert of south east region of Saudi Arabia. The desert region is called Empty Quarter, and this body has been found by ARAMCO exploration team.

This proves what is said in the Quran that a long time ago, the people of Aaad and Hood nations were so tall, wide and very powerful that they were able to pull out big trees and just with one hand.

Now it is believed that this body belongs to Aaad People.

Saudi Military took over this whole area, and no body is allowed to go in except for Saudi's ARAMCO personnel. Saudi government kept it very secret but some military helicopters took pictures from air.
